

Wenner-Gren International Series

Instructions to Authors

Thank you for agreeing to contribute to this volume of the Wenner-Gren International Series. Please follow these guidelines when preparing your paper for publication.

Submission of copy

Please submit as instructed by the Editor(s)

Text

- The main text should be supplied as a Microsoft Word document.
- The chapter should be between 3000-4000 words in length, excluding references
- The text document should contain the legends to any figures
- The text should contain complete address(es) of your affiliated institution(s) and an email address for the corresponding author(s).
- Tables should be prepared and formatted using the Microsoft Word table editor
- Each Table and Figure should have a title (and caption if required)
- Number any Figures and Tables in the order in which they are cited in the text

References

- References in the text should be cited according to the numbering system, using sequential numbers in square brackets, e.g. [1], [2–3], [4,5,7–10] or “Williams et al. [29] have shown...”.
- At the end of the article references should be listed in order of appearance, one of the following style (depending on the type of publication):

Journal	1. Perna, F., Lemer, B.S. and Yura, M.T. (1995) Mentoring and career development among university faculty. Journal of Education 177 , 31–45
Book	2. Farnham, D. (1999) Managing Universities and Regulating Academic Labour Markets , SRHE and Open University Press, Buckingham
Chapter in edited book	3. Altbach, P.G. (1991) The Academic Profession. In International Higher Education. An Encyclopedia Vol. 1 (Altbach, P.G., ed.), pp. 23–45, Garland Publishing, New York
- Other reference types can be included, e.g, conference proceedings, websites
- List all authors (and editors if appropriate)
- Do not include references to unpublished work, manuscripts in preparation or submitted for publication. Such material should be incorporated at the appropriate place in the text.
- Reference to a personal communication should be made only in the text; provide the written permission of the person cited.

Artwork

- File format
  - Our preferred file formats for artwork are TIFF and EPS
  - These should be supplied at a minimum resolution of 300 dpi
  - Alternative formats are JPEG, GIF, PDF, PowerPoint and Corel Draw
- Artwork size

The maximum width for figures in portrait orientation in the published book will be 10.5 cm. Please take this into account when preparing your figures
- Artwork quality

Ensure that the visual quality of artwork, especially labelling and lettering is suitable for publication. Please label using the Arial font.

Artwork supplied at a low resolution may not reproduce well in print. If low-quality/resolution artwork is supplied we may have to request improved versions to ensure the good quality reproduction in the published article.
- Colour artwork

Figures should be prepared as monochrome (black-and-white) where possible. Owing to the higher cost of printing colour, the use of cosmetic colour should be avoided; only include colour if it is necessary for the interpretation of the artwork by the reader.

If you have any queries about preparing or supplying electronic figures (e.g. about file format, resolution etc.), please contact editorial@portlandpress.com

Copyright and permissions

- Licence to Publish: A form to be signed by the senior or corresponding author of the chapter to grant Portland Press an exclusive licence to publish the chapter is enclosed.
  - Please send this to Portland Press' London office at the same time that you submit your manuscript to the Editor(s).
- Permission to reproduce: If you wish to reproduce copyrighted material, you must obtain permission from copyright holder to do so. This material can include, but is not limited to, previously published artwork or significant passages of text, and corporate or institutional logos and branding:
  - Copies of all documentation indicating that permission has been granted must be supplied to Portland Press' London office, ideally at manuscript submission.

Please note that we cannot proceed with publication until all licences to publish have been completed and all permission requests have been granted.

Index

In order to help us compile the book's index, please supply a list of terms/words from your chapter that you feel would make suitable index entries (they should be entries that you feel a reader might look up).

Proofs

You will receive a PDF proof of your article; ideally this should be used to correct minor errors only and are not an opportunity for major revision of the text.
